Slight Correction Due on Electoral College Record

I usually write this column the night before publication but delayed it on Wednesday until just before noon in order to comment on the latest national election returns. But I didn't actually check our AP wire—rather, I was thinking about the TV report Tuesday night when I wrote that "George McGovern is the victim of the greatest landslide in history."

Wednesday's paper rolled off the press, and only then did I read in the adjoining news column that while McGovern won only 17 electoral votes the actual record landslide was in 1936 when Franklin D. Roosevelt polled 523 and Republican Alf Landon got but 8. The 1972 score was Nixon 521; McGovern 17.

Under normal circumstances I would have checked the Electoral College score in the World Almanac—but you cut corners when writing against a deadline.

However, when I did consult the Almanac Wednesday night I found that the total Electoral College vote was 531 in FDR's day, but the total was 7 more, or 538, in both 1968 and 1972. Therefore the 1936 record low of 8 votes for Landon and 1972's 17 votes for McGovern boil down to an adjusted difference of one vote.

What I did remember was the possibility that a historic "low" occurred in one of America's three-party contests. And on this I was correct. In the 1912 campaign Teddy Roosevelt bolted the Republicans and launched the Bull Moose party; and the result was that Woodrow Wilson won with 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt got 88—and Republican Taft, running for re-election, got exactly 8. But the low figure for any two-party campaign remains as 8 for Republican Landon in 1936.

There was another three-party race in 1924, when Coolidge was elected with 382 votes. John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee, got 136, and Robert LaFollette and his Progressive party wound up with 13. If I remember that race so well it's because your editor, then at El Dorado, bolted the Democratic ticket and voted for LaFollette. It was a protest vote, of course. The Republicans had rock-ribbed conservative Coolidge, and the Democrats had Davis, a Wall Street lawyer.

I wouldn't like to see a third party established permanently, in view of the chaos the multi-party system has produced in France and Italy—but there will be times when the people, denied any real choice, bolt the established parties to chastise their entrenched politicians.

I understand the thinking of the people who voted for Governor Wallace in 1968—as one who himself voted for LaFollette in 1924.

Just to refresh your memory, in 1968 Nixon won with 301 electoral votes, Humphrey got 191, and Wallace posted a respectable 46—the best bolting record since Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose effort in 1912.

I know Hempstead county was glad to read in Tuesday's returns that John Paul Hamerschmidt was re-elected by a landslide in the Third Congressional District. He was much admired locally during the years he served us, but reapportionment took us out of his district.

You always like to see a man you've endorsed make good in the long run—and The Star endorsed him in his initial victory over the late Jim Trimble.

Alone on Interstate 30

Taking advantage of the last closed section of interstate highway in Arkansas a lone rider uses the State Highway 299 access road as a shortcut to Emmet. The 8.9 mile section of I-30 will be opened in a dedication ceremony tomorrow (Friday) at 2 p.m. at the Emmet exchange. Gov. Dale Bumpers will be the dedicatory speaker.

Last gap of I-30 to open; Gov. Bumpers to be main speaker

Tomorrow (Friday) the Arkansas Highway Department, in cooperation with the Hope and Prescott Chambers of Commerce, will formally open and dedicate the 8.9 miles of I-30 between Prescott and Emmet—the last gap of interstate in Arkansas. The dedication site is the Highway 299 interchange just north of Emmet and ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Gov. Dale Bumpers will make the dedicatory address. Highway Commission chairman John Harsh of Magnolia will introduce the Highway Commissioners and officials.

The master of ceremonies will be George Frazier of Hope.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be performed by Miss Arkansas, Debbie Hazelwood of Magnolia, assisted by Gov. Bumpers and other dignitaries.

Motorists will be able to travel the entire 313 miles from Dallas to Little Rock on four- and six-lane divided highway. The first I-30 contract in Arkansas was awarded in October 1967. Completion of the six-lane I-30 bridge across the Arkansas River between Little Rock and North Little Rock in 1961 was one of the largest structures and represented a major step in modernization of the Arkansas Highway System. Arkansas' segment of I-30—143 miles—represents an expenditure of over $130-million and is anticipated to serve 1,332,374,000 vehicle miles of travel annually by 1990.

Planning for the Interstate System began in 1956 after passage of the Federal-aid Highway Act by Congress authorizing the construction of 42,800 miles of a National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

The Arkansas Highway Department, through careful, long-range planning, has virtually reached its 1972 completion goal on the two major routes. The Department was recently praised by the Federal Highway Administration for the amount of federal funds obligated during the 1972 fiscal year. J. W. White, regional administrator for the FHWA office in Fort Worth, said, "Your excellent record of fund obligations is an eloquent testimony to your organization's ability to meet changing conditions and to respond to shifts in program emphasis."

Broadening of party goal of McG, Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Gov. George C. Wallace say they plan to work for a broadened Democratic party in the years ahead after George McGovern's smashing presidential defeat at the hands of President Nixon.

And Texan John Connally, who led the Democrats supporting Nixon in the 1972 campaign, says he hopes the lessons of McGovern's electoral disaster Tuesday will produce a "responsible leadership that will bring the party back into the mainstream of American political thought."

None of the three—Kennedy, Wallace and Connally—would say much about his own political future but it took less than 24 hours after Nixon's landslide victory for the first voice for 1976 to be raised on the Republican side.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, the Senate's only black member and a landslide victor himself Tuesday, said he is going to give "serious thought" to a 1976 presidential bid, declaring that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "is not the heir apparent" to GOP leadership.

Most of the political talk Wednesday looked toward the future as politicians of both parties assessed the voters' split decision that gave Nixon 49 of the 50 states and the largest popular vote total in history while confirming Democratic congressional control.

Final returns, still to be confirmed when official canvasses are made, showed Democrats with a net gain of two senators for a 57-43 Senate majority in the incoming 93rd Congress and a net loss of 11 members for a still-substantial 244-190 lead in the new House. There is one House member designated an independent.

Democrats made a net gain of one governorship among the 18 contested Tuesday, leaving them with 31 of 50 including four of the seven largest states—Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

In the presidential race, with 98 per cent of the nation's precincts counted, the popular vote stood:

Nixon 45,861,690, or 61 per cent.

McGovern 28,402,465, or 38 per cent.

Attacks shifted

SAIGON (AP) — With bombing halted above the 20th parallel in North Vietnam, the United States has shifted much of its air effort to other parts of Indochina and has doubled the number of strikes in northern Laos in support of government troops there, senior U.S. officials disclosed today.

Officials said U.S. fighter-bombers are now averaging about 50 strikes a day in the Plain of Jars region of Laos, where North Vietnam has launched its annual dry-season offensive. This is in addition to the strikes along the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in eastern Laos.

B52 bombers are also being used to support the Laotian army in the northern part of the country, but it could not be learned how many of these raids were being flown.

For the seventh successive day, U.S. B52s made saturation strikes on both sides of the demilitarized zone.

Nixon reportedly 'turned on' by idea

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's chief domestic policy aide says Nixon is "very turned on" about reorganizing the federal bureaucracy. But he predicts 1973 will find economic issues "right on the front burner."

John D. Ehrlichman, who flew here with his boss and other Nixon aides Wednesday night for what was described as a discussion of an effort to get government to work "more efficiently and more effectively," said in an interview the President is getting deeply involved in federal management problems. Nixon announced through Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler that he is planning a significant reorganization of the White House staff and the rest of the bureaucracy, and also is making a point of seeking standby resignations from all his political appointees.

Ehrlichman said: "I think the President is going to be willing to take a look at the whole question of how the federal government is working. We've already got structural reorganizations but I think in a functional sense there's going to be more and more inquiry, more and more involvement ... in the management aspects of government. He's very turned on with that subject."

Ziegler indicated personnel changes and reorganization actions or proposals are likely to be a centerpiece of Nixon's work in the weeks preceding his second inaugural on Jan. 20, 1973.

Governmental shakeup is eyed by President Nixon

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Two or more Cabinet posts and dozens of White House and other key federal jobs are involved in President Nixon's tentative plans for a major second-term shakeup of the government's executive branch. The scope of the President's plan, which he will develop in conferences with top aides at his Florida home here during the next four days, became clear within hours after he swept to landslide re-election.

Nixon summoned White House aides, the Cabinet and agency heads to a series of meetings Wednesday to deliver this message:

The second Nixon administration will stress economy and efficiency as well as responsiveness to the President's wishes. As a first step in revitalizing and reorganizing offices under his control, he wants stand-by resignations from all his appointees.

The White House said the President has made no decisions on what resignations to accept. But even before Tuesday's election, two early departures from his Cabinet were signaled.

Housing Secretary George Romney said in August, during a flap over federal aid to Pennsylvania flood victims, he would resign from the Cabinet. "The President urged me to stay on until after the election, and I agreed to do so," Romney said.

Melvin R. Laird has said repeatedly he would quit as secretary of Defense at the end of Nixon's first term, adding that nobody should head the Pentagon for more than four years.

Sources have said that two other Cabinet members, Labor Secretary J. D. Hodgson and Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, have indicated some interest in leaving their high-pressure posts.

Administration officials stressed, however, that none of the Cabinet members is being forced out by Nixon.

Some lower-level officials, however, might find themselves suddenly looking for new jobs. White House officials have expressed some displeasure with the lack of support Nixon's proposals have received from the middle levels of some agencies.

Sources indicated there's still another, unspoken reason behind Nixon's shakeup move—the President's desire to reward selected officials of his campaign organization.

High on this list would be campaign Director Clark MacGregor, reported to be in line for a Cabinet or other high-level government post if he wants it.

Likewise, Nixon has deep respect for the ability of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, who headed the Democrats for Nixon organization. Connally probably could have virtually any Cabinet post, but says he wants none.

For a while, Connally and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller were rumored as possible successors to Secretary of State William P. Rogers. But Rogers, a long-time Nixon associate, has shown no inclination to leave his post.

Final preparations

Members of the Interstate-30 dedication planning committee discuss plans for the dedication ceremonies for the opening of the 8.9-mile stretch of I-30 near Emmet, scheduled for Friday at 2 p.m. Committee chairman, Garland Medders, at left, Charles Mitchell, District 3 engineer of the Arkansas Highway Department, Jim McKenzie, president of Prescott - Nevada County Chamber of Commerce, and Bill Looney, public information officer with the Highway Department discuss final preparations with J. W. Rowe, Hope Chamber of Commerce president.

Buildup of equipment continues

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam today the current buildup of American aircraft and other military equipment in South Vietnam is matched by a similar buildup on the Communist side and will continue until a peace agreement is signed.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told newsmen at the start of the 100th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that every day a settlement "comes perceptibly nearer."

But he urged North Vietnam not to be impatient over the delay in reaching final agreement.

"We believe that the soundness and equity of an agreement are vital considerations which, if that agreement is to endure, must not be sacrificed to haste," Porter said in a brief prepared statement to the meeting.

He referred to recent protests from Hanoi and the Viet Cong against the massive shipment of American arms to South Vietnam to beat the cease-fire.

This buildup, Porter told the Communist delegations, "is, of course, similar to what you are seeking to do for your own forces."

"We see in these supply efforts a state of affairs which would be halted by both sides as soon as final agreement is reached. Thereafter, of course, the provisions of the agreement would apply."

The draft agreement would ban shipment of arms to South Vietnam by either side.

GOP Senators face a shakeup

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans, their ranks weakened by losses they had least expected, are sputtering toward a leadership shakeup.

Two key spots in the GOP Senate lineup must be filled and there is a possibility that Hugh P. Scott might be challenged again for the top job in the minority leadership.

Leadership changes seemed less likely on the majority side as Democrats celebrated a margin widened from 10 to 14 by Tuesday's election.

Republicans were shocked at the Democratic gains. They had been confident of picking up some seats and had even glimpsed a chance of moving into Senate control.

Jubilant Democrats, on the other hand, said their victory not only assures them an excellent working majority in the 93rd Congress but also means they probably will retain control in the 1974 and even the 1976 elections.

The new 57-43 Democratic margin means the party has

Protection of law extended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Protection of the U. S. Supreme Court's Miranda decision was extended Wednesday by U. S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele to persons who testify before federal grand juries.

"A witness before the grand jury, and especially an employee of a company or corporation under investigation by the grand jury must be warned that he might be prosecuted and that his testimony might be used against him and that he has the right not to incriminate himself," Eisele said. "If he is not so warned, that testimony and its fruits may not be used against him."

Eisele said he disagreed with courts that had held that grand jury witnesses were not entitled to such a warning.

The 6th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which encompasses Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee, has ruled that a Miranda-type warning must be given to certain types of witnesses.

Eisele said the court's opinion formed "an inadequate and deceptive premise upon which to predicate nice differentials in treatment."

Eisele's ruling on the issue was in a memorandum opinion that upheld the government in a case in which a grand jury witness had refused to testify.

Although the over-all decision was in favor of the government, Eisele said that the Justice Department might choose to oppose the decision because of its far-reaching effects on future grand jury testimony.

succeeded in reversing its downward slide from the 68-32 lead six years ago to a 55-45 edge in the 92nd Congress which adjourned last month.

The upsets which shocked the Republicans and surprised most Democrats came in Colorado and Iowa.

Veteran Sen. Gordon Allott had been considered a shoo-in in Colorado but he lost by about 15,000 votes to Floyd K. Hakkell, a former state representa-

Building returned to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protesting Indians who seized the Bureau of Indian Affairs Building a week ago have returned it to the government—somewhat the worse for wear—and they claimed a victory.

The last two dozen Indians, out of as many as 500 who had occupied the white marble building since Thursday, filed out Wednesday night.

The Indians took with them Indian artifacts that had been on exhibit and BIA documents that they claimed contained evidence that public officials have deprived Indians of their property for many years.

"We know we definitely have changed the course of history," said Russell Means, a leader of the "Trail of Broken Treaties" caravan, which arrived in Washington last week to protest treatment of Indians by the government.

Dozens of Indian tribes from states like Oklahoma, Montana, South Dakota and New Mexico were represented in the caravan. Most Indians wore red headbands, armbands or scarves as symbols of "red power."

While in the BIA building, many fashioned makeshift tomahawks and clubs from legs of chairs and tables and vowed they would forcibly resist any attempt by police to evict them unless they first had action on their demands.

"We have destroyed the BIA," said Dennis Banks, national field director of the American Indian Movement.

All Around Town

There will be a gospel singing tonight (Thursday) at the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church. Everyone has been invited to attend.

David Pearson of Hope led the congregational singing at the Christian Church Disciples of Christ meeting held last weekend in Hot Springs at the First Christian Church.

A cheerleader contest will be tive who had been a Republican until two years ago.

The debacle suffered in Iowa by Sen. Jack Miller, a two-term incumbent, was even more striking. He went down by 125,000 votes to Dick Clark, a relative unknown who walked 1,313 miles across the state in a folksy campaign.

Republicans also had expected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith to win a fifth term in Maine although they knew she faced a stiff challenge from Rep. William D. Hathaway, victor by 27,000 votes.

In the leadership realignment, Republicans must choose replacements for Mrs. Smith as chairman of the conference of all GOP senators and for Allott as chairman of the key Policy Committee.

Whether there will be another challenge to Scott as Republican leader is not certain. The Pennsylvania has sometimes angered conservatives by taking positions more liberal than the Nixon administration.

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., a top-heavy re-election victor in Tennessee, could decide to try for the leadership again. He lost to Scott 24 to 20 in the GOP conference two years ago.

But Republican liberals fared well, too. Two of the biggest victors were Charles H. Percy, who won by 1.1 million votes in Illinois, and Clifford P. Case, a winner by more than 700,000 votes in New Jersey.

CHARGES DROPPED

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Motions were granted by Circuit Court Judge Bobby Steel Wednesday to drop charges against the manager of the Capri Theater, which had been the subject of obscenity charges.

The action followed a state Supreme Court decision that invalidated a padlock order that had been issued against the theater by Circuit Court Judge John W. Goodson. Because of illness to Goodson, Steel sat on the bench as a special judge.

Pat Bullard, manager of the theater, had been convicted Aug. 21, 1971, in connection with the alleged showing of an obscene film. The movie, which was confiscated by police, depicted a nudist camp beauty contest.

held Saturday, November 11, at 10 a.m. at Fair Park. All cheerleaders participating in the grade school football program may compete.

The totals listed in the State Representative race column in the Hempstead County voter tabulation chart yesterday were listed in error. Correct total should read: Larry Patterson, 4008, and Jerri Pruden, 2845.

Blacks won four seats

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four blacks won seats in the Arkansas General Assembly in Tuesday's balloting, but Republicans failed to make any gains.

The black winners were all Democrats, who defeated other blacks running as Republicans. Blacks running as Republicans in three other legislative districts were defeated by white Democratic opponents.

The four thus will become the first blacks in the Arkansas Legislature since the late 1800s. One black was elected to the 35-member state Senate and the rest to the house.

Dr. Jerry D. Jewell of Little Rock, a dentist and former president of the state NAACP, will represent District 3 in Pulaski County in the Senate. Jewell defeated Republican Sam Sparks, a Little Rock businessman.

Black members of the 100-member House will be Henry Wilkins III, 40, of Pine Bluff from District 54 in Jefferson County; Richard L. Mays, 28, of Little Rock from Position 1 in Little Rock's District 3, and William H. Townsend, 57, also of Little Rock from Position 2 of the same district.

There were 11 Republican candidates for the Senate and 23 for the House, but the only winners were incumbents — Sen. Jim Caldwell of Rogers and Rep. Preston Bynum of Siloam Springs.

My fiancé is in the Army overseas. I got a strange letter from him. He said he'd had reports from "an informed friend" that I'd been going out on him. I haven't ever!
Then he wrote that he's been shacking up and will I please forgive him? Said he is breaking off with this girl and begged me to understand.
The last paragraph said, "Now that I've leveled with you, I expect you to be as truthful with me."
I don't know what to believe. Is he trying to trap me into a confession? Should I track down this "friend" and make him or her tell the truth? Should I give my boyfriend permission to mess around as long as he doesn't get serious? Or should I get mad and threaten to break our engagement because I. He doesn't trust me, and 2. He isn't true? —OR WHAT?
OR WHAT:
A guilty conscience can force a person into making up excuses to excuse himself. So that he'll look "not so bad," he makes you look "not so good." See?
So now he hopes everything is even and all is well. Stick with the truth and forgiveness bit. He'll probably feel rotten that you haven't gone out on him (but also relieved), and good that you'd forgive his game. —SUE
DEAR O.W.:
You asked, "Is he trying to trap me into a confession?" Is he perhaps the sneaky type who might bring up the girlfriend story so that you'd Tell All — and his jealousies would be confirmed? Maybe there is no "informed friend," but only his basic distrust.
You evidently suspect this. Be sure you're wrong before you go ahead with marriage plans. —HELEN
DEAR RAP:
Could you publish my letter for "Lonely" who described her high school years so poignantly?

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

This seems a busy year, with many short trips. Pour-ful friends and contacts appear willing to help. Limit spending at the present to immediate needs.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): You're not quite as lucky as you think. Some miscalculation, oversights due to poor judgment are possible. TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Large concerns should be working out better than expected. Fortuitous circumstances are major contributors.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): If you'd convince others you're capable of handling their affairs your plan must be practical. Glibness will not get you by. CANCER (June 21-July 22): You could have some difficulties getting others to see things your way. Your judgments are likely to conflict.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): Don't fritter time away on unnecessary communications. Keep your nose near enough to the grindstone so work is completed.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): An influential individual could take more than just a social interest in you—he may have business or career matters to discuss.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): You may be tempted to ease off and play a little too much today. Don't. There are some large responsibilities requiring attention.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): A short trip looks promising and probable. It involves a blend of business and pleasure.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): You're likely to get your hands on some extra money. Behaving like a spendthrift with friends neutralizes gains.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Good fortune could expand your authority today. Misuse or boasting would be poor social taste.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): A blunder that you made could be rather wasteful. Help from behind the scenes will minimize its effects.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): A very reliable friend is trying to ease things for you. Let him help guide you, particularly in money matters.

Three free UNICEF Christmas cards will go with each purchase of a pair of Finesse pantyhose from Stevens Hosiery between Nov. 20 and the end of December. "Stevens is buying the cards at full retail price as its contribution to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund," a company spokesman said. It represents the largest single purchase of greeting cards ever made from the United Nations Children's Fund. With the income from the three cards in each tote bag, UNICEF can provide enough vaccine to protect 36 children against tuberculosis or enough triple vaccine to protect 7.5 children against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. BILLIE JEAN KING

Billie Jean King: Reflections

By KAROL STONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — "My God, Johnny Benc's dream is to make $100,000 a season. 'I've made it!'"

Billie Jean King seemed awed by the magnitude of her own financial strides—surpassing those of the Cincinnati Reds' catcher, one of baseball's best, and many other professional athletes.

"I don't even know what $100,000 is," said the best-paid woman in professional tennis. "I never see it. I haven't changed."

True, she sees little of the actual cash in the lode that this year is expected to total $250,000 in winnings and extras.

She's the same Billie Jean who calls a partially furnished apartment in Emeryville, Calif., home. The same Billie Jean who prefers a hamburger to fine cuisine, a cold beer to a cocktail, tennis shorts to a party dress. The same Billie Jean who, by her own analysis, people either like or don't like.

But she has changed.

Two years ago, by her own scheduled made in 1967, she was to quit tennis to become a housewife and mother. Instead of laying down her racket, she took up the cause of making tennis a profession rather than a hobby, of making women on the court first-class citizens and athletes.

While the men were signing contracts with Lamar Hunt to play with World Championship Tennis the women decided to do something about the frustration that was festering within them.

Billie Jean emerged as the visible, vociferous spokesman for the cause backed behind the scenes by Gladys Heldman, publisher of Tennis World magazine.

"I used to be shy off the court," said the most articulate player on the tour. "It took me a long, long time to get over it. People close to me know how shy I really am."

"I don't like to be around a lot of people. No. 1 on my hate list is cocktail parties. The minute you walk in the door people are tugging at you, saying 'I just want to touch you so I can say I know you' and they're asking questions I can't answer."

"People think I spout off a lot of the time, but I've had 17 years to think about tennis."

Because she is visible, vocal, a veteran approaching 30 and a champion, she thinks she has become a villain in the press while Evonne Goolagong and Chris Evert have been painted as the heroines.

She doesn't resent either as a player. She thinks they're good for tennis—women's tennis. She only regrets that Chris hasn't turned professional. This year Chris could have won some $41,000 on the Virginia Slims tour alone.

"They need a villain and I fit the bill," Billie Jean said, hammering again at the news media. "They like Chris because she's young and cute. They say Evonne is a natural because of her walkabouts in Australia."

Miss Evert, the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., tenn-er, was the youngest member ever of the U.S. Wightman Cup team in 1971. At the U.S. Open that same year she captured the crowds as well as her opponents until she met Mrs. King in the semifinals. She made it to the semifinals again this year, losing to Australian Kerry Melville after going the same distance in her first Wimbledon appearance only to bow to Miss Goolagong.

Evonne shocked the tennis world last year, too, when she beat Billie Jean for the Wimbledon crown. But Mrs. King avenged the loss this year when Miss Goolagong's concentration gave way to a walkabout, a wandering state of mind usually reserved for the Australian Outback as a pleasant interruption of regular work.

"They call me the Old Lady," said Mrs. King, who at 28 can beat the youngsters and has won three U.S. Open championships and four Wimbledon titles. "I don't like it. I loathe it. I feel younger now than I ever did."

Hull and Derek get go-ahead in court ruling

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The new plutocrats of the sport — Bobby Hull, Derek Sanderson, John McKenzie and others who jumped from the National Hockey League to the World Hockey Association — have received an official court-go-ahead to begin earning their riches.

A preliminary injunction issued Wednesday by U.S. District Court Judge A. Leon Higginbotham Jr. prohibits the NHL from enforcing its controversial reserve clause, which has given it a monopoly on the professional hockey player pool.

He stepped short at this time, however, from ruling the clause illegal.

The decision was a godsend for the WHA, which based its survival strategy on luring established stars for sky-high salaries. The order was set to become effective upon payment by the WHA of a $2.5 million bond.

So far, the new league has pretty much had to do without Hull, Sanderson and McKenzie.

The NHL Chicago Black Hawks, who lost Hull to the 10-year, $2.75 million pact offered by the Winnipeg Jets, got a court order keeping him off the ice.

Higginbotham's decision reverses that and allows player-coach Hull to start seeing action. The so-called "Golden Jet" was in uniform Wednesday night in the Winnipeg-Quebec game. He picked up an assist but Winnipeg lost 3-2.

The other NHL expatriates have been playing while their legal status awaited the judge's ruling.

However, Sanderson—who edged Hull in the moneybags sweepstakes with a five-year, $2.6 million deal from the Philadelphia Blazers—has been out most of the season with a shoulder injury and has been ineffective in the few games he's played.

McKenzie, like Sanderson a refugee from the Boston Bruins, has been out all year with a broken arm.

The broader question stemming from Higginbotham's ruling is its possible effect on the reserve clause, the means by which baseball, football, basketball and other major American sports as well as hockey keep their teams organized.

Rice-Arkansas try to salvage season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rice's trick plays are far more sophisticated than those diagrammed in the dirt of every sandlot football game.

"We do draw them up on paper," says Rice Coach Al Conover. "But, if we had some sand out there on the artificial turf it would be all right."

Rice plays Arkansas Saturday at Little Rock and both are trying to salvage seasons that have been going downhill lately. Arkansas, 2-2 in the South-west Conference, and Rice, 0-3, are both out of the conference title chase.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles says Rice "gives you play-action passes, reverses, screens, reverse passes, just about everything."

"We don't have the greatest personnel in the world, so we've got to try to trick them," Conover said. "We've got to have a trick or two to move the ball. We might have one or two this week."

Against SMU, Rice attempted a width of the field lateral on the kickoff. In another game, the Owls used an end around pass.

In a 10-6 loss to LSU, the Owls lined up in a makeshift formation away from the football. Quarterback Bruce Gadd strolled over to the ball, picked it up and pitched it to a half-back who had nine players blocking for him. The officials overruled the play, saying the ball had not been marked ready for action.

Conover is like the golfer who sinks an approach shot for a par—he doesn't care how, only how many.

The Owls have averaged more than 34 passes a game and threw 47 times in a 29-10 victory over Clemson.

"I don't care what we do as long as we move the football," Conover said.

Rice started the season in surprising fashion, beating Houston and Clemson and then tying Georgia Tech 30-30. Since then, the Owls have lost four straight.

Conover said several injured players had returned to action and added, "We're the football team we were in the beginning of the season."

"We've gotten all those injured people back and the players are up right now," Conover said. "We still have a chance for a winning season and these kids haven't been associated with a winning season."

In fact, Rice has not finished a season above .500 since 1963 when the Owls were 6-4.

In a 10-6 loss to Texas Tech last week, Rice was forced to play without its three starting linebacks. Rodrigo Barnes, one of the best in the conference, and John Kelly are expected to play against the Razorbacks.

How much does Barnes mean to the team?

"We haven't won since he's been out," Conover said.

Arkansas built a 4-1 record, but has lost two of its last three games. Three weeks ago, Texas whipped the Razorbacks 35-15 and last week Texas A&M intercepted six Joe Ferguson passes enroute to a 10-7 decision.

"What they did last week really doesn't have much effect on me," Conover said. "There's no guarantee that they're going to do that again. They'll probably want to take it out on us."

Conover is certain Arkansas will have no love for his Owls in view of the 24-34 tie the two teams played last year at Houston. The tie, coming on the heels of a 17-0 loss to Texas A&M, knocked the Razorbacks out of the Cotton Bowl.

Offensively, the Owls rely heavily on Gadd and tight end Gary Butler. Gadd is the passing leader and total offense leader in the SWC, ranking one notch above Joe Ferguson in both categories.

Gadd has completed 116 of 213 for 1,365 yards and Ferguson has hit on 100 of 227 for 1,368 yards. Gadd has suffered 15 interceptions and Ferguson 13.

Conover is extremely high on Butler, who stands 6-3½, weighs 237 pounds and runs the 40 in 4.7. Butler is the leading receiver in the conference with 33 catches for 473 yards.

Although the Owls do not have a running back in the SWC's top 10, Conover says sophomore Gary Ferguson is "starting to come on." Ferguson carried 20 times for 111 yards against Tech last week.

Philadelphia 76ers keep on plugging

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philadelphia is losing in big numbers now. The 76ers have dropped 14 straight and the latest loss came at the hands of a team whose top shooter was hurt.

Nate Archibald of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings sprained his thumb in the first quarter of Wednesday night's game. It didn't stop him from scoring 34 points and dropping the 76ers 12 games out of first in the National Basketball Association Atlantic Division after just three weeks of the season.

"It's tough. It's very tough," said Philadelphia guard Fred Carter. "All we can do is just keep plugging."

Archibald, who leads the league in both scoring and assists, did some plugging of his own after he was injured.

"I found that I couldn't hit my jumpers so I had to pass off," the 6-foot-1 guard said. "I shot terrible (14-of-18). I couldn't hit anything but lay-ups."

The little star must have healed quickly as he hit 16 points in the final period. He also handed out 18 assists during the game.

The Kings, who trailed for most of the first half, got 23 points from rookie Ken Riley and took the lead for good in the third period. John Block led the 76ers with 36 points.

ABA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Billy Cunningham and Mack Calvin are survivors. The team Cunningham left is starting the season with 14 losses and Calvin's old club has disappeared completely.

Cunningham played for Philadelphia in the National Basketball Association last year. He departed to join the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association this season and the 76ers are now threatening to never win a game.

Calvin was a star for the ABA's Floridians but when the league pared itself he was tossed into the common draft and grabbed by Carolina.

Football game is cancelled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The football game scheduled Nov. 18 between Arkansas Tech and the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff was canceled Wednesday by UAPB.

UAPB also announced that basketball games with Arkansas College and Philander Smith College will not be held.

All the games were sanctioned only last week by the NAIA.

UAPB was suspended by the NAIA last Spring, when the school was Arkansas A&M, following a crowd disturbance at the District 17 basketball playoffs in Arkadelphia.

All scheduled competition between the Pine Bluff school and other schools in the state was called off last March. UAPB then withdrew from the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, which it had joined in 1969.

Until the UAPB case is reviewed and sanctions are lifted, a special resolution by the NAIA is necessary for a member in good standing to play UAPB. Such special permission was granted last week and subsequently rejected by the Pine Bluff school.

"I don't want anybody trying to tell me who I can schedule and when I can play," said UAPB Athletic Director and head football coach Dr. Van Johnson. "There is more to this suspension than what is apparent."

"I'm no fool, I can read between the lines," Johnson said. "The only reason they set March 20 is so they can keep us out of the national indoor track and the district basketball playoffs."

The UAPB situation is scheduled to be reviewed by the NAIA next March 20.

Johnson said his school planned no further action until the suspension is lifted and he said he did not care when they lift it or if it is lifted.

L. A. Kings, NHL's hottest club

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
It took some doing, but the National Hockey League's hottest team stretched its unbeaten streak to nine games Wednesday night with a 3-3 tie against expansionist Atlanta.

Now, guess which team is unbeaten in its last nine.

Powerhouse Montreal? Nope. The tenacious New York Rangers? Negative. Boston's defending Stanley Cup champions? Guess again.

Would you believe the lovable Los Angeles Kings?

Believe it or not, the Kings, surprise leaders in the NHL West, are hockey's hottest club.

LA, losers of 141 games in the last three seasons, got two goals in the final 3½ minutes to gain the tie. There was some solace for Atlanta though. They did snap an eight-game winning string for the Kings.

In other NHL action Wednesday, Montreal stung Toronto 5-2.

Ernie Barnes: Strange combinations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ernie Barnes has the feld of a professional football player and the sensitive perception of an artist. He's been both and doesn't think it's a strange combination.

Though he majored in art at North Carolina Central, it wasn't until Barnes ended his football career that he took to painting seriously. Now, seven years later, he's successfully making his living at it and also is delving into writing, acting, producing and teaching.

And where on the surface it might seem that the violent, regimented world of professional football would stifle these creative pursuits, Barnes maintains the sport helped him personally, professionally and artistically.

Barnes, 34, says it was football which helped him develop his full personality, helped refine his creative sensibility, gave him something to say in his work and provided him with his first professional painting jobs.

"Football demands creativity," the former offensive guard said as he lounged in his studio, surrounded by unfinished paintings and other projects in the works. "It demands an artistic effort because of the techniques necessary to make you a football player."

"Pulling out of the line at a 45-degree angle and then breaking down field to hit a back, and the way your back has to cut off you—whether instinctive or not—is art. To outwit your opponent—there's art in that. The art of pass blocking. The art of being a good human being as you learn respect for your fellow man."

Barnes toiled for five years in the American Football League, spending most of his time with the San Diego Chargers and the Denver Broncos. He quit in 1965, he says, because the internal dissension on the Broncos and the dehumanizing aspects of the game became too much for him.

Barnes vented his anger at the sport in his painting. The hostile period has passed, Barnes says, and though he isn't sorry he left the game, he is respectful of those who do play. And he doesn't think the dehumanizing aspects of the sport are worth discussing in detail.

"There are dehumanizing things in everything," he says. "Football is a microcosm of life in every respect. Every emotion you can experience in life you feel in two hours in a football game."

In fact, Barnes feels too much has been made of football's bad points in recent years. He thinks respect for the sport is eroding as people lose sight of what it has to offer. And as respect ebbs, he says, so follows enthusiasm to play and to watch the game.

Though Barnes is long past the point of concentrating on football paintings, he thinks the fact that he played the game still shows in his work.

"All of my work has a rhythm — it flows," he said, eyeing his latest oil, a dark, busy pool hall he calls the "Den of Inequity."

"Because I was an athlete I know what it's like to run, what it's like to hit. I think the paintings are more faithful to the forces of sport than they are to the laws of art."

Schooldays at Butterfield Elementary School, in the north Chicago suburb of Libertyville, are no longer quite the same old golden rule days ...

... And yet—the school's innovative "open" program still has something in common with the little old one-room schoolhouse: students of all grades assemble together, in the subject areas into which school space is divided instead of closed-off classrooms. The school has nearly 700 first through eighth graders, who can earn the privilege of taking over the planning of their own study programs when they've shown themselves capable of doing so. When they reach that point, they can sign themselves up for the classes they choose, when they choose, with the teacher they choose—subject to approval and with teachers' advice on devising a balanced schedule.

Photographed by Charles Knoblock.

In other ways, Butterfield is unlike the one-room school. In getting down to study literally, for example, sitting on the floor around one's teacher. And in the kind of learning that's not confined to rows of desks—like developing a taste for cookery, below, and coming to grips with carpentry, right.

Generous George overbids all no-trump hands and most suit hands. Hence his three no-trump call.

North put George right in six and West opened the king of hearts. George saw that six clubs would have been a cinch but that six no-trump might well not come in.

Nothing showed on his smiling face as he remarked to West, "I am generous enough to let you hold this first trick."

George won the continuation and ran off his five clubs. Somewhere along the line East let go a diamond and the slam wheeled in.

"You talk like you are generous," remarked West.

"My partner is the generous one. He gave you your slam."

"Not at all," said George.

"You were both squeezed."

He had to come down to six cards including four diamonds. The other two would be either two spades or a spade and the 10 of hearts.

If he came down to two spades, you would be squeezed in spades and hearts when I cashed my diamonds. If he came down to one of each, you would not be squeezed but my ace of spades play would drop his queen and I would make the slam by finessing

Reactions to GOP victory

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Foreign reaction to President Nixon's personal victory reflects bafflement. To people abroad, the result seemed a mandate for continuation of Nixon policies, but in terms of the national legislature he remains a minority President.

That couldn't happen in a parliamentary system of the sort Britain implanted in many nations around the world. As for Communist nations, long sealed off from the democratic process, the result likely is beyond the comprehension of most.

The difference between the U.S. and parliamentary systems stands out in bold relief this year because only nine days before the Americans, their Canadian neighbors also went through a federal election.

The results suggest, among other things, an unlikely prospect that men ever will achieve the perfect democratic apparatus.

One British newspaper commented that the U.S. vote makes Nixon one of the most powerful presidents of the century, with a virtual blank-check mandate. But that overlooked Nixon's lack of control of the Congress.

One fault of the parliamentary system — illustrated in Canada — seems to have been that a prime minister could be enormously powerful. In relative terms he could be far more powerful than a U.S. president.

The parliamentary system requires popular voting for members of the lower house of the national legislature. The party winning the most seats forms the government. Its leader in the House becomes prime minister and he draws his cabinet from House members, who remain House members.

In 1968, Pierre Elliott Trudeau's Liberals won a landslide. House of Commons members tend to toe the party line rather than risk discipline, and this makes a majority prime minister powerful, subject to practically no legislative rein on his will.

This year, however, the result was a dead heat and meant neither major party could rule without the support of the socialists. Canada now, in all probability, must have a new election soon and try to dispel some of the confusion and uncertainty.

If President Nixon were in the position of a prime minister, he could be ousted by a vote of no confidence from a hostile legislature. As it is, he will rule at least two and perhaps four more years without a Congressional majority.

Foreigners are puzzled by the spectacle of a president with a powerful-looking popular mandate subject to frustration by a legislature that is not obliged to bend to his will.

While some will not even try to fathom this, each capital is likely to read the result as it chooses to see it. Thus in Indochina one side will see a popular endorsement of Nixon's Vietnam course; the other will say the outcome resulted from a vast deception of the voting population. In the Middle East, one side will see a strong endorsement of support for Israel, the other a confirmation of the notion that U.S. politics is dominated by Zionism.

Memorial gifts for Cancer Fund asked

Mrs. Olin Purdie of Hope, Memorial Fund Chairman for the Hemstead County Unit of the American Cancer Society, said today that following the 1972 Crusade which ended with a total of $1,987, she wants to continue to increase funds raised to fight cancer through memorial gifts.

Mrs. Purdie stated anyone wishing to establish a memorial for someone who has died from cancer may do so by sending a check to the American Cancer Society. Gifts are also often made in the name of the living members of the family or friends in honor of birthdays, anniversaries and other important events.

Every gift is acknowledged with a dignified card naming the person in whose honor the donation has been made, sent to the person designated by the donor.

"The goal of the American Cancer Society to wipe out cancer in your lifetime will be reached," Mrs. Purdie said, "through the continued support of our people, as has been indicated by the generous contributions of the families in Hemstead County."

Memorial donations should be mailed to Mrs. Purdie, 1110 W. 7th St. Hope 71801.

Oil company recognized

Mrs. Mabel Bramlett, owner of Bramlett Oil Company, was presented a plaque Monday in recognition of her firm's 25 years association with Lion Oil Company. E. N. Carter, Lion district sales manager of El Dorado made the presentation. In addition, attending the presentation ceremonies were Bob Kellam, at left, and Mrs. Kellam, daughter of Mrs. Bramlett; Carl Bramlett, Mrs. Bramlett's son; and R. T. Wright, district representative.

Congress holds the Democratic power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The election results make Congress more than ever the main repository of national Democratic political power—just when Democrats in the House must try to repair a leadership gap caused by tragedy. Although members avoid discussing the situation publicly, the Democratic caucus must, on some basis, provide for the post of majority leader before Congress reconvenes Jan. 3, unless the leader, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, is found alive by then.

Most sources predict a smooth adjustment, with Democratic Whip Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts stepping up, perhaps on an interim basis. But a fight for the post is possible.

There is even speculation that the speakership, held by Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, may be contested. Persistent reports are that Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the Ways and Means Committee chairman who staged a minor campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been taking soundings. Mills reportedly has told associates he would never oppose Albert, but the speculation will not die.

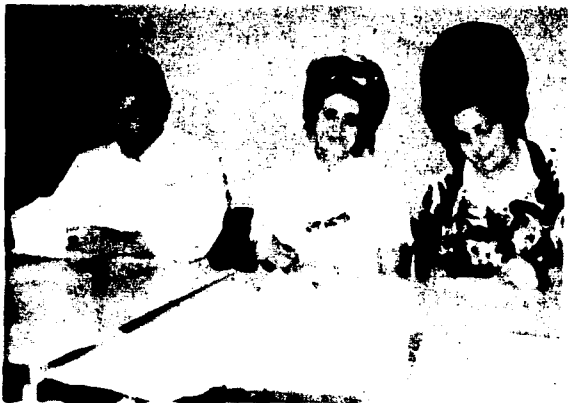

In contrast, there is no indication of any move in the Senate to replace Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana or the Democratic whip, Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Boggs and Rep. Nick Begich, D-Alaska, disappeared Oct. 16 on a flight along the mountainous Alaska coast. A massive sea and air search, still continuing on a limited basis, has found no trace of their light plane. Both were re-elected Tuesday.

Highway film on tap for Rotary Club

"The Right (High) Way", a 15-minute sound-color motion picture portraying the need for an accelerated highway construction program in Arkansas will be shown Friday noon before the Hope Rotary club.

The program will be presented by K.V. Browne, Little Rock, chairman of the Board of the Crow-Burlington Co. Mr. Browne is chairman of the board of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, having served as president for two terms.

COMPLETE COURSE—Eleven aides and orderlies complete a six-weeks training course in basic nursing at Hempstead Memorial Hospital. Shown above are three graduates — Ronnie Trumble, Betty Rowe, and Sharon Cornelius. The course included teaching and practice in procedures and techniques used in day-to-day nursing of the sick and injured. The nursing aide or orderly is expected to carry out most basic nursing in the present hospital. Others completing the course were Mrs. Tallie Powell, Ophelia Logan, Adele White, Juanita Alford, Doris Holt, Jessie Witherspoon, Mary Alice Jackson, and Elsie Formby.

People in the News

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Meyer Lansky, the reputed underworld financier, is undergoing treatment at Mt. Sinai Medical Center for a "cardiac insufficiency."

Lansky, 71, who was reported in satisfactory condition, was admitted to the hospital 11 hours after federal agents arrested him on his arrival early Tuesday at Miami International Airport.

He came to Miami from South America, where he had been searching for asylum. He had been in Israel, but authorities there said he would be expelled if he did not leave.

FBI agents arrested him as he stepped off the airplane on a long string of pending charges, including conspiracy to evade income taxes and refusing to appear before a federal grand jury. He was arraigned and released under $650,000 bond.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., says he will seek re-election as speaker of the House.

Albert said in a statement Wednesday that the election Tuesday of a Democratic Congress "is clear and convincing evidence that the people of the United States recognize that only the Democratic party can provide the leadership necessary to meet the vital needs of our time."

Former 'Angel' injures eyes

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — George Wethern, former Hell's Angel member and owner of a ranch where three bodies were unearthed last week, jammed two pencils into his eyes after he "just went off his rocker," Mendocino County Sheriff Reno Bartolome says.

Wethern's eyesight will not be impaired permanently, however, Bartolome said Wednesday.

Wethern, who has agreed to testify against the motorcycle gang in exchange for immunity from prosecution, jabbed two pointed pencils into his eyes Tuesday night in a jail cell he shared with his wife Helen, Bartolome said.

The Wetherns were arrested last week on drug charges at their 153-acre ranch near here. "It was the pressure ... I was out of my mind," Bartolome quoted Wethern as saying after the eye-stabbing incident.
